SIGMA ANNOUNCES ITS 50th ANNUAL MEETING

Marketers Will Celebrate Milestone in San Francisco at the Fairmont Hotel

WASHINGTON, February 21, 2008 – The Society of Independent Gasoline Marketers of America (SIGMA) will hold its 50th Annual Meeting on November 13-16 in San Francisco, California at the Fairmont Hotel.

This meeting serves a wide-range of individuals in the petroleum marketing arena. From independent gasoline and c-store chain owners to equipment and fuel suppliers, the SIGMA Annual Meeting is the perfect networking opportunity and forum for the best information and education in the industry.

“SIGMA has always been known for its first-class social events and excellent education and our 50th Annual Meeting will not disappoint. To mark this momentous achievement, we will celebrate with a special Gala & Dinner, which will certainly be a night to remember.” said Kenneth A. Doyle, SIGMA’s executive vice president. “The entire SIGMA family is excited and proud to mark this 50th anniversary milestone!”

In addition, registrants can anticipate thought-provoking speakers and stimulating business strategy discussions that will keep businesses thriving in this volatile gasoline market. The coupling of San Francisco’s unique city, cutting-edge education and SIGMA’s 50th Anniversary celebration will result in an unforgettable Annual Meeting that motor fuel marketers and fuel suppliers cannot afford to miss.
